

Professional Drivers Service

90% of a driver's reaction time depends on vision.

Impaired vision means slower reaction times.

Accidents can happen in the blink of an eye!

Professional drivers understand how important their eyesight is to their livelihoods, and employers are increasingly ensuring their professional drivers are in the right shape to drive.

While drivers are required to renew their licenses every 5 years, sometimes eyesight can deteriorate significantly in that time due to a number of factors:

- Age and general health
- The onset of diabetes
- Glaucoma or myopia
- Eye strain and digital fatigue

From Near to Far

Of particular concern is when a driver begins to require varifocals or bifocals. This means their eyes begin to struggle when transitioning from short distance to long distance – a common practice for most professional drivers.

Environmental Factors

Add to this environmental factors such as weather changes, low sun or the increased luminescence of modern car headlights, and you can understand the need to take care of driver's eyesight.
